

AquaShield

Evolution's Aqua Shield is the world's first flooring protection system for laminate flooring. Made from all natural non-toxic elements, Aqua Shield protects your floors from water damage from accidental spills.

Your Evolution floor now comes factory finished with Aqua Shield on all 4 sides of every plank providing exceptional protection for your investment and is only available on selected Evolution products sold throughout Australia only.

Traditional laminate and timber floors have always been adversely affected from water ingress and spillages. Laboratory test results revealed that Aqua Shield will provide protection from water damage for up to 60 hours. Traditional laminates will incur damages after only 30 minutes.

Evolution laminate flooring + Aqua Shield provides unbeatable durability and value to our customers, and further cements our position as the leading manufacturer of high quality laminate flooring.
